WHO KILLED DR. BUSHEE?

DEATH PLOT MYSTERY

Prominent Druggist of Somerville Victim of Deadly Assault in His Own Store, but Robbery Was Not the Motive—Facts Show Crime Far Beyond the Ordinary.

Profound mystery surrounds the death of Charles E. Bushee, the well-known druggist of Somerville avenue, Somerville.

Facts have come to light, actual, tangible evidence, that leads to the conviction that the murder of the aged pharmacist was no ordinary crime.

They indicate that for a long time there had been a plot, a deliberate planning for the death of the druggist.

That revenge was the motive and not robbery is evidenced by the fact that $38 in bills was found in Bushee's pockets, $2.40 in change lay on the floor near where he was stricken down late Sunday night, January 12, and a quantity of change was discovered in a box in the rear of the store where the druggist often kept as much as $50.

A threatening letter which Mr. Bushee received about two years ago, practically saying, "I'll get even with you. I'll do you to your death. I'm coming to settle with you," has been placed in the hands of Chief Parkhurst of Somerville.

The chief refuses to disclose the actual contents of the letter. That he is furnished with a clue that may lead to the solution of the mystery is all but admitted.

Mr. M. L. Lewis of No. 254 Somerville avenue, Boston, some of the more of the mystery has been revealed. He is also known to Somerville.

AN IMPLACABLE ENEMY.

While Chief Parkhurst is insisting that the druggist was stricken down for the sake of money and that the robbery was the motive, the facts that he kept it and that it was in the hands of the police, however, have led to the belief that it was a plot.

BLACKJACK IN CELLAR.

The Somerville police today would not say whether they are not taking any further steps in the work of searching for the man who killed the druggist.

EDWARD G. GRAVES TO BE CITY COLLECTOR

HEAD OF REPUBLICAN CITY COMMITTEE IS PICKED TO SUCCEED SCOLLARD.

Mayor Graves has decided to appoint Edward G. Graves, president of the Republican City Committee, as city collector to succeed Garrett W. Scollard, who will be retired some day next week.

Murder and Robbery in the Suburbs

Is It Any Wonder, With Such Men as Parkhurst in Charge of the Police?

Charles E. Bushee was attacked on the night of January 12 by a man with a home-made blackjack. This murderous weapon was not such a one as is commonly used by "eggmen," but was one that apparently had been constructed for the very purpose of assaulting the victim upon whom it was used.

Mr. Bushee recovered from his injuries sufficiently to go to the telephone and call a doctor. He was taken to the hospital, where he died on February 6 from the effects of the assault.

The police of Somerville, instead of taking any intelligent action to capture the murderer of Mr. Bushee, have devoted their attention very largely to concealing the facts in the case and endeavoring to prove that Mr. Bushee was not murdered.

"If he was murdered," says the wise chief of police of Somerville, "he was killed by 'eggmen' who were bent on robbery." Which seems to be sufficient cause for the police to stop worrying about the matter.

This is the same chief of police who recently shielded a man on his force charged with burglary, and who caused the arrest of the person who had the audacity to make the charge.

Suppose this chief of police is right in his convenient assumption that the assault on Mr. Bushee was committed by "eggmen" and not by persons who live in Somerville? Is that any reason for his failure to take any competent action to catch the criminals?

Isn't it, in fact, a further reason why he should do something to get the money that is paid him by the people of Somerville and make an effort, at least, to find and convict the person who attacked a quiet and non-boasting citizen?

Crime of violence committed by thugs have become alarmingly frequent in the vicinity of Boston.

Four men were shot in Woburn last night by "eggmen." These professional thugs have apparently come to believe that they can murder and rob without danger of punishment, providing they confine themselves to the vicinity of Boston.

The capture of two of the bandits who did this shooting is due to the intelligence of Arthur Burgess, a CONDUCTOR ON A STREET CAR, who suspected the men and informed a policeman.

It is fortunate for the public that the policeman who happened to be at hand when Burgess became suspicious of the character of his two evil-looking passengers was not Chief Parkhurst of Somerville.

WESTON TELLS BOYS TO BE READY FOR NEXT WALK
CARDING FOR FEBRUARY 15

BY EDWARD PAYSON WESTON.

It is not too soon to begin to think about the third walk which we are going to take on Saturday, Feb. 15. Considering the fact that we were compelled to start last Wednesday before many hundreds of members could reach Edward Everett square in time for the walk, I consider that the demonstration made by the thousands who did attend was remarkable.

As Saturday is the "clubhouse" holiday, I think for twice as many to be in line on the next walk.

I can't say too much about organization. While every boy who wants to walk is welcome to enter the line and receive a button, it is desired to have the march arranged as nearly as possible by companies.

Let the schools get together and form Western walks. The club and select a captain who will report to me at the start. Then a company can be assigned to a place to start. We want to walk with something like a military precision.

It is going to be a long walk, but it is a walk every one of our club will enjoy and be benefited physically and mentally. We shall have an interesting walk on the beach.

Keep on the march. Every boy who wants to walk with me should get out every afternoon or evening and walk at least three miles. Remember that I have not said anything about the next walk and nothing in it. I have not said anything about the next walk and nothing in it. I have not said anything about the next walk and nothing in it.

Think that the other boys of the various schools about Boston, and even if you don't think it is a good idea to communicate with me at No. 30 Beacon street, through your captain, and have arrangements made for your appearance at the next walk.

IS BATTLING NELSON A HEAD ONE?

By TAD.

"I see in the paper," Mr. Taylor says, that the "Boer" Rudie has had a shade on the "Boer" Nelson the other night at the Park Square rink.

Well, there's only two ways to do it. If the reports are correct, in the first place, Rudie is a wonder. He is a wonder. He is a wonder. He is a wonder.

The popular opinion seems to be that he was the winner on that night. There are no doubts about it. And if Rudie Unholz, who is a wonder, he is a wonder. He is a wonder. He is a wonder.

MITCHELL'S MESSAGE

Resting and resting on the sidelines and up tracks of sixty old American railroads are over four hundred thousand idle cars, standing silent but impressive witness to the gigantic struggle now being waged between the "Big Stick" and "Predatory Wealth"—between the Light and it is given to the President to see it, and the Light as it pleases the Almighty Dollar to view it. Much more is made of the fact that these cars are idle, while but little comment is made of the idleness of that mighty human force all along necessary to keep these cars in motion. In a contest between twined and twined it is a case equal, and American workmen ought not to suffer.

It behooves every workman in America to keep his money in his pocket and his hand on his gun. To keep his money in his pocket and his hand on his gun. To keep his money in his pocket and his hand on his gun.
